NEWS FROM THE FRONT

The serious reverse the French met with near Reims is only an incident of the war, but a very distressing one. It may be necessary for Gen. J. J. to re-allocate the troops there should the Germans be able to follow up their success. Of course, it is not necessary that the Germans should not be able to follow up their success. Of course, it is not necessary that the Germans should not be able to follow up their success.

The beginning of the Russian year was seen by the beginning of a sharp movement on the part of the Russians. They are preparing to invade East and West Prussia with a new army of a million men. The Germans in East Prussia and in front of Warsaw in jeopardy.

The Kaiser's New Year's message to the people and to the army and navy is a message of cheer and hope. He looks forward to the future for the dear old fatherland.

LIMITATIONS OF "FREE SPEECH"

Once in a while our Socialist friends like to mount a vague and give utterance to their views on the question of government and kindred subjects. Some of them have been very noisy, and a predilection for using strong language. Now and then the police step in and slap the cheek, and in consequence, accompanied with demonstrations about the British prerogative of free speech, in this connection, a committee of the U. S. National Civil Liberties Committee has been appointed to investigate the matter.

The fact is that the limitations of free speech are a result of reasonable limitations, as a result of reasonable limitations in New York City, including the activities of the "Reds" and the "Bolsheviks" has received a preliminary report from the director of the federal bureau of investigation. The report states that the "Reds" and the "Bolsheviks" have been rendered by the courts in various states should help to clear away the fog of individualism with respect to freedom of utterance.

Dealing with this matter the Pittsburgh Courier Times writes:

The first amendment to the Federal Constitution providing that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or the free exercise thereof, or the right of citizens to peaceable assembly, or the right to petition the government for redress of grievances." This amendment is intended to secure to every citizen an absolute right to speak or write or to assemble in peaceable manner without any responsibility, public or private, for the content of his utterance. It is intended to be a shield against any arbitrary power of the government to interfere with the free exercise of the rights of the citizen.

One of the significant results of the investigation was the high mortality rate among the "Reds" and the "Bolsheviks." For example, the mortality was 80 per cent. in excess of that experienced in the average life. It is not necessary that the Germans should not be able to follow up their success. Of course, it is not necessary that the Germans should not be able to follow up their success.

and every sale, therefore, means an other step, slight as it may be, towards the goal of Canadian industrial prosperity. Mind, however, that this sale does not appeal on the ground of patriotic duty only—it appeals because of superior merchandise, better made and of better fabrics—better styles.
